Han-nah was ver - y sad, she had no child-ren. She prayedd to God, and asked Him for a child. E - li, who saw her, first thought she was drun-ken, but when he heard she prayed, he spoke so mild: "Han - nah, your prayer is heard! Han - nah, your prayer is heard! What you have asked for, you'll al - so re - ceive." Han - nah went home and she was sad no long-er. She'd get a son, she could sure-ly be - lieve.
